

General: Default font-size: 16px; font-family: Source-Sans-Pro; Elements with interactive states should have transition-duration: 0.4 seconds;

Sections: All content is split into 5 section cards with white backgrounds, initially set to flex-direction: row;

Content within each section generally has spacing of 2em to the outer edge of the card

Section cards have white background and drop shadow.

Container Hierarchy:

Body:
Site Navbar
Content Container:
Header
In-page Navbar
About:
Content Column
Content Column
Getting There:
Content Column
Content Column
Trail Map:
Content Column
Content Column
Comments:
Content Column
Content Column
Footer

Explore RI

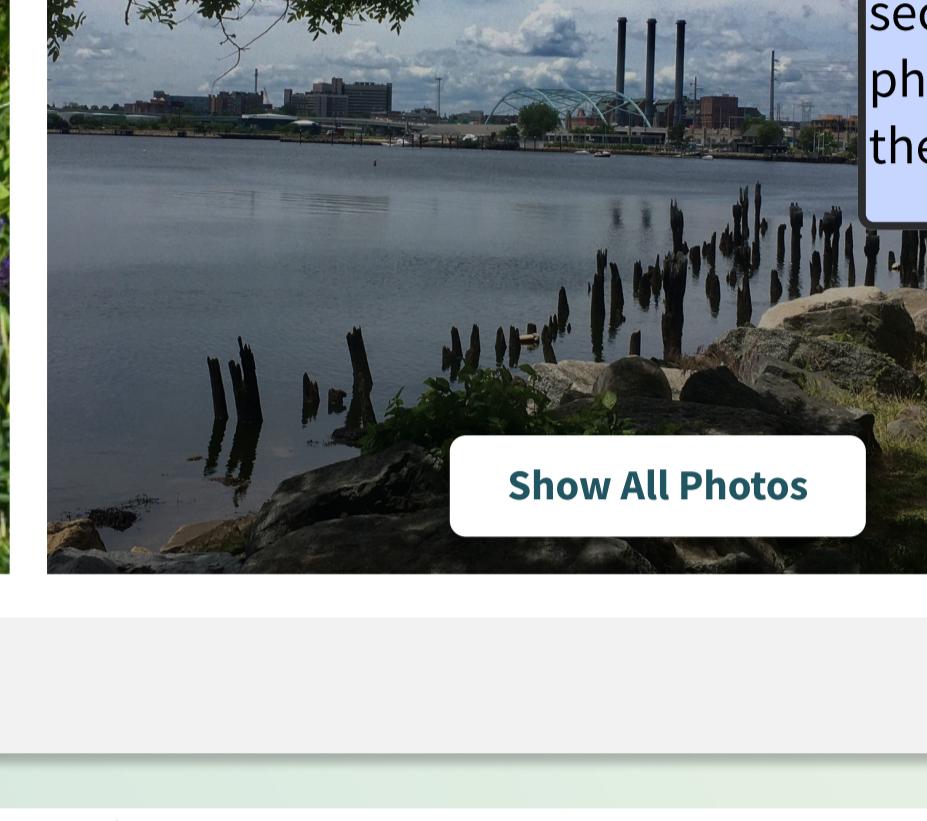

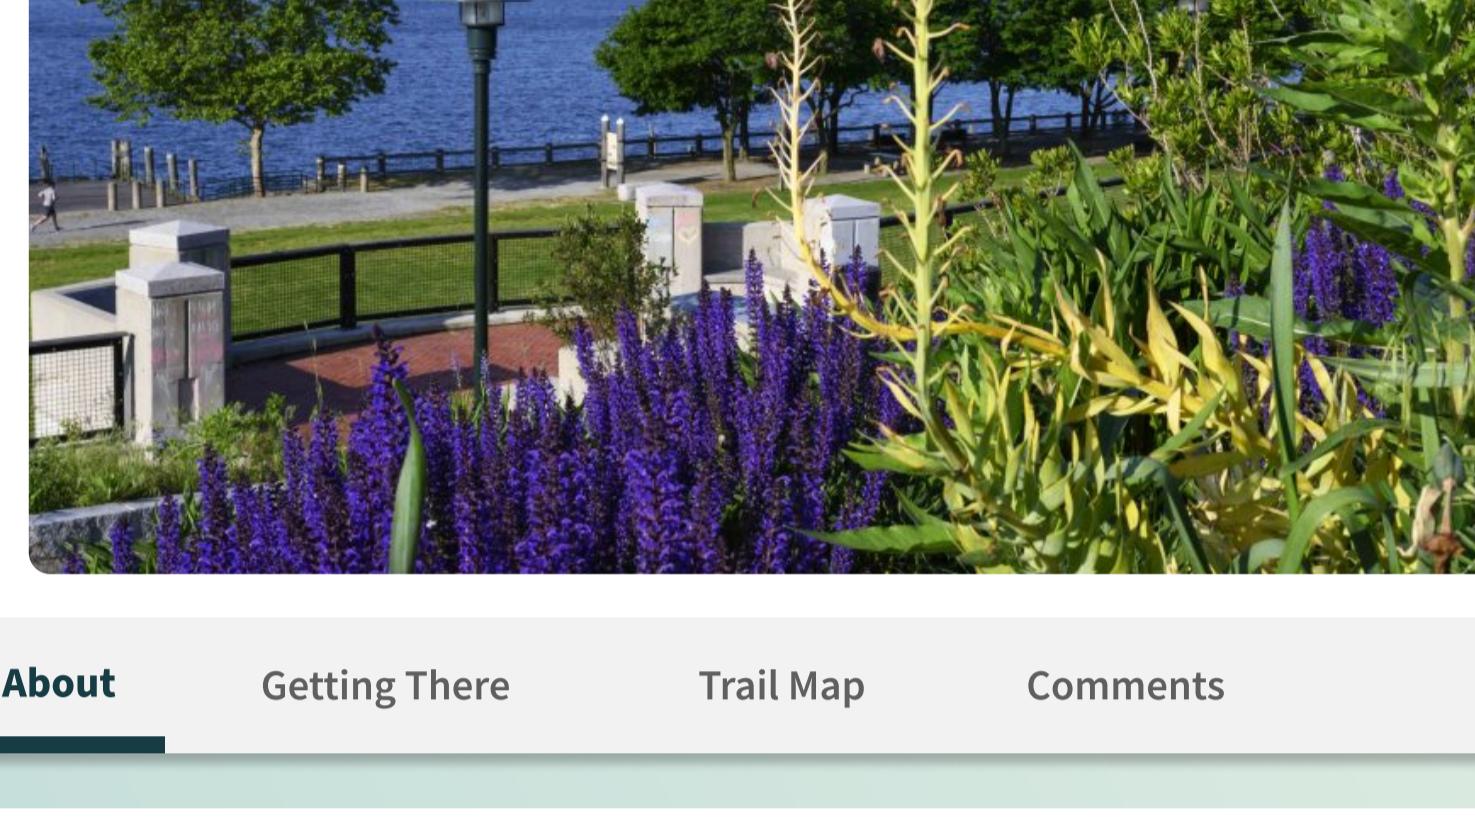

Go Padding Go Walking Outfitters & Gear About Us Stories Resources Donate

← Return to List

Site Navbar: flex-direction: row; with two spaced between elements - one for the logo and title, another for the navbar links on the other end, taking 100% page width.

India Point Park

★ 4.0 (3 Reviews) • Providence • Managed by the City of Providence • Updated 12/12/12

Content: All content goes into centered container, set to: flex-basis: 967px; And centered within a containing parent flexbox set to flex-direction: row; This container then contains all sections.

Header Section: flex-direction: column;

In-page navbar: flex-direction: row; With media queries at 1000px or less, navbar will shift from justify-content: start; to justify-content: center; Clicking links will scroll the page to the linked section, using anchor tags.

Section: The About, Getting There, Trail Map, and Comments sections are all composed of flexboxes with flex-direction: row; each containing two columns. Each section is separated by a 1em margin.

Section Columns: Each column is itself a flexbox with flex-direction: column; taking up either 1/3 or 2/3 of the parent's width.

About

Getting There

Trail Map

Comments

Activities

No Horses Allowed

Leashed Dogs Allowed

Cycling Allowed

What's there?

Located in the historic Fox Point neighborhood of Providence's East Side, India Point Park is celebrated for its sweeping views of the Providence Harbor and Seekonk River. In addition to lighted, paved & stone dust walking paths along the water, the park includes a playground with ropes, swings and a sandbox. There is a ceremonial site for the annual 4th of July fireworks display, along with summer...

Show more

Long text: Longer paragraphs will be cut to a certain number of lines, ending with a "..." and then having a "Show more" button displayed to expand if clicked.

Trail Information

Total Length

1.5 Miles

Accessible Length

What is this?

1.5 Miles

Difficulty

What is this?

Easy

Getting There

Driving

Driving Landmarks: Follow Gano Street southbound until it turns into India Street as you approach the park. The parking lot is just ahead on the left. In addition to the parking lot there is extensive roadside parking along India Street adjacent to the park.

Parking: Yes: Parking lot, 30 spaces, no overnight parking

ADA Accessible Parking Spaces? Yes

Cycling

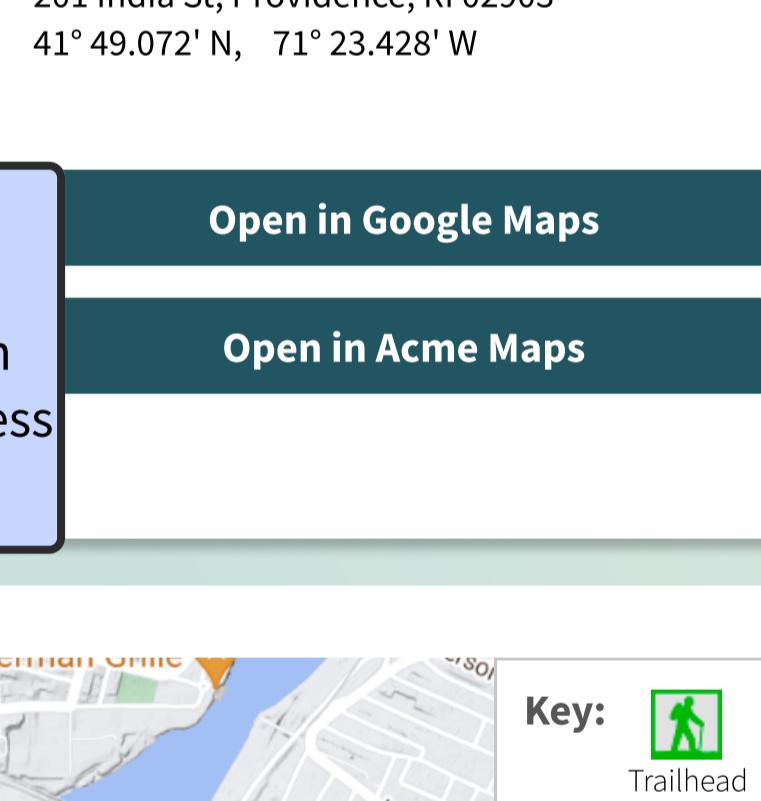

India Point Park is directly connected to the East Bay Bike Path.

Bus

The RIPTA 92 bus passes near the park on Wickenden Street. Get off near East Street and follow East Street two blocks to the footbridge over the highway.

Ferry

Seastreak & RIPTA operate a ferry to Newport from a dock adjacent to the park.

Entrance Location:
201 India St, Providence, RI 02903
41° 49.072' N, 71° 23.428' W

Open in Google Maps

Open in Acme Maps

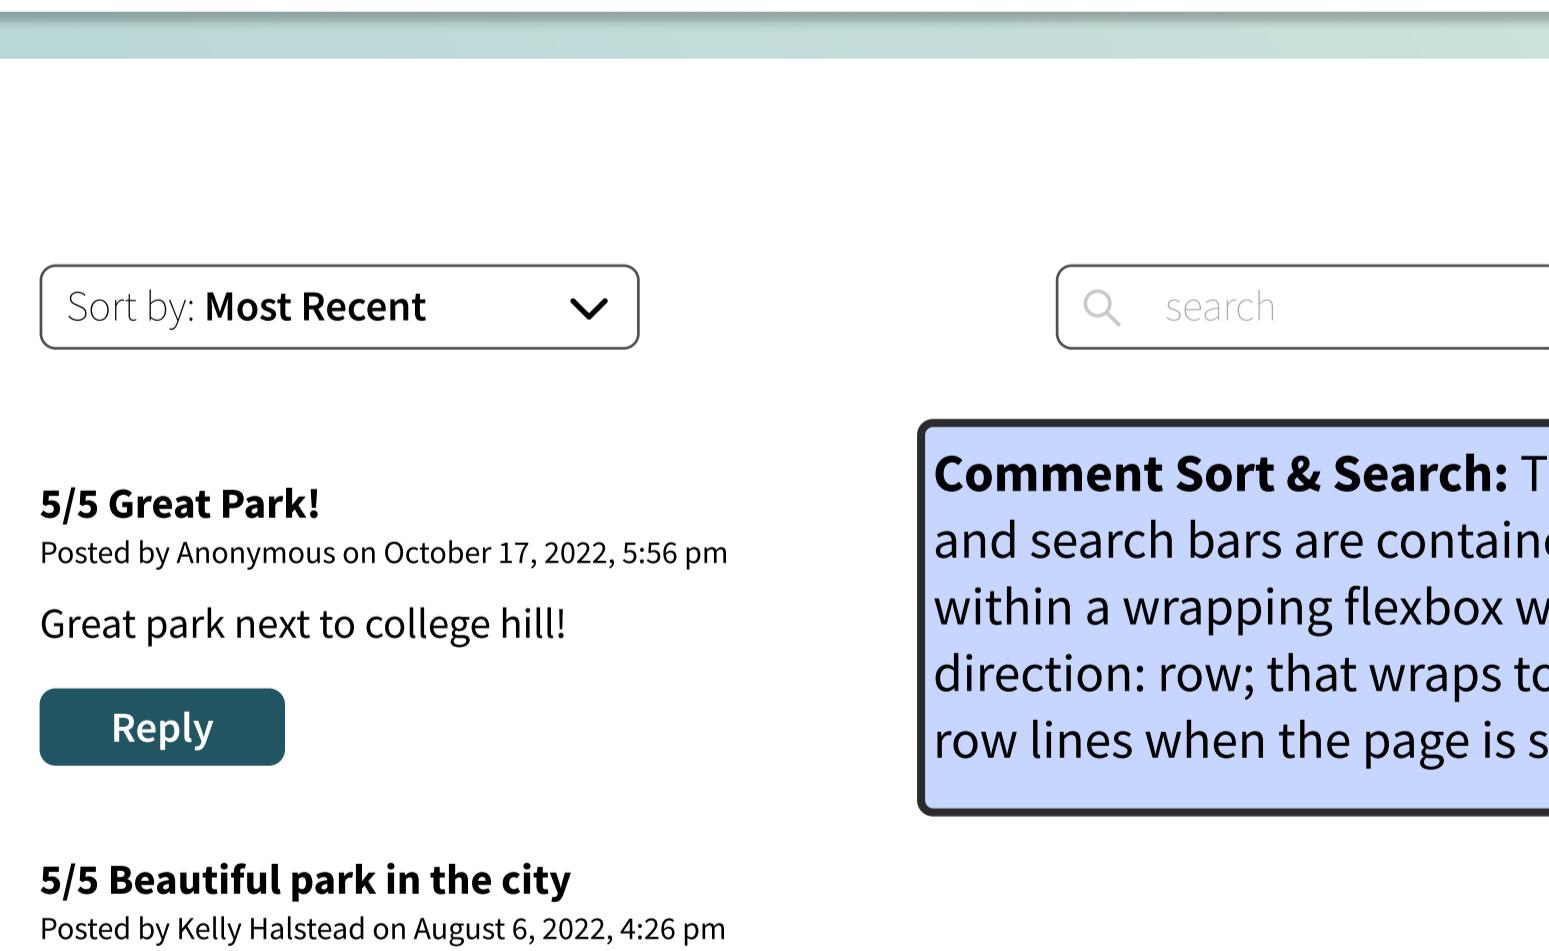

Trail Map

Only trailheads related to this trail system are shown on this map.

To see all trailheads go to the main map.

For a downloadable copy, please click the button below,

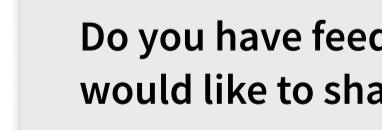

Open Trail Map PDF

Key: Map key will be fixed to the top right corner of the attached Google Maps widget.

Comments

4.0

3 Reviews

5 Stars

4 Stars

3 Stars

2 Stars

1 Star

Write a Comment

Do you have feedback you would like to share with us?

Help us do better by reaching out to us below.

Share Private Feedback

Sort by: Most Recent

search

5/5 Great Park!

Posted by Anonymous on October 17, 2022, 5:56 pm

Great park next to college hill!

Reply

5/5 Beautiful park in the city

Posted by Kelly Halstead on August 6, 2022, 4:26 pm

Perfect spot for a stroll anytime of day!! I love having a picnic in the shade of beautiful blooming trees. Picturesque sunsets!!

Reply

Reply Button: is set to a fixed width instead of to the width of the parent container.

2/5 No Restrooms

Posted by Hygiene for

There are no permanent restrooms at this park. There is no separation from bicycles and pedestrians on the walkways. The cyclists are a danger particularly on the stairway entrance.

Reply

Footer: Is a flexbox with flex-direction: row; with the text on left and two links set to the end of the flexbox on the right, similar to how the navbar is structured.